

Summary of Responses to Proposed Street Collection Policy

Consultee	Observations	Comment / Action Taken	Amendments to Policy
Hertfordshire MS Therapy Centre	Concern that the proposals do not restrict their current fundraising within the District	The Policy doesn't propose any new restrictions on collection opportunities; the only amendment likely to effect existing collectors is that the collection returns form will need to be signed by a qualified accountant (although this shouldn't pose a problem to registered charities as they are likely to have an accountant who audits their accounts)	None
RNLI (Baldock Branch)	Concern that the proposals do not restrict their current fundraising within the District - they are exempt from local permissions as the RNLI have a Home Office Exemption Certificate	The Policy doesn't propose any new restrictions on collection opportunities; the only amendment likely to effect existing collectors is that the collection returns form will need to be signed by a qualified accountant (although this shouldn't pose a problem to registered charities as they are likely to have an accountant who audits their accounts)	None
