Annex 1

Special Interest Member Champion Purpose and Role

What is their Purpose?

A Special Interest Member Champion will be an elected Member who, in addition to their other Council responsibilities, is a named champion for a particular issue or group. They will provide a non-Executive or non-Officer voice to that subject or group to ensure a focus on these issues in Council business (within the context of the Council Plan, its priorities, remit and resources).

What is their Role?

Typically, a Special Interest Member Champion:

- Will engage with Officers and Members in relation to the role.
- Will promote the issue of special interest or group being championed within the Council, so that it is considered when developing Policy, Strategy or making decisions.
- May ask questions about performance and resources for the issue or group.
- Will raise the profile of the area and (where not already adopted or promoted) foster awareness of good practice for improvement of services.
- May attend and be invited to speak at Overview & Scrutiny/ Cabinet or Full Council meetings where an agenda item specifically involves their special interest.
- May engage with community groups with an interest/stake in the issue or group.

How does their role fit within the Council structure?

This will vary according to the area/issue that is being championed and how the authority functions. There is potential for confusion and overlap between the role of the Special Interest Member Champion and those of the relevant Executive Member or Overview and Scrutiny Members.

It is therefore important that Members and Officers work together to agree roles and action for the area being championed and that there are mechanisms for the Special Interest Member Champion to report on their activities. In the first instance, the Member Champion will raise issues with and have a reporting line to the relevant Executive Member for the special interest concerned, to ensure that all parties have sufficient pre-reporting/ publicity information.

[Save in so far as any decision is taken by the Council members as a whole] this is not a decision making role. A Special Interest Member Champion should avoid committing themselves to an outcome of a decision, in advance of that decision, that they have a vote upon.
